

Keynote Speakers

Don Kincaid directs the Florida Positive Behavior Support Project at the University of South Florida. He also directs USF's participation in the OSEP Positive Behavioral Supports and Interventions Center, a partnership of Universities and agencies across the country. He Co-directs the Florida Center for Inclusive Communities, a University Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities. Don came to the PBS Project from West Virginia University where he served as the Deputy Director of the University Affiliated Center for Developmental Disabilities for 10 years. While in West Virginia, Don directed a number of state and federal PBS Projects including the Life Quilters Project, the Tri-State Consortium for PBS, the Regional Collaborative for PBS, the Lifespan PBS Project, the School-Based PBS Project and the Crisis Intervention Network

Susan Barrett has been coordinating the Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports initiative in Maryland for the past nine years. She has a Masters in Counseling Psychology and certification in Special Education, having served as a teacher, administrator and coordinator with Sheppard Pratt Health System since 1993. She assists with large scale implementation of SW-PBS by providing ongoing training and technical assistance in Maryland, South Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee. She also works with Johns Hopkins University to evaluate the impact of PBIS on students, school staff and school communities.

More recently, Susan is coordinating a network of state coordinators with the Mid South States. This network has formed to build formal structure that will establish local capacity for scaling, and sharing resources.
